All Analyst Summary

All Analyst Summary allows you to view your team’s performance at a glance. It provides an overview of earnings estimate and stock recommendation performance over an analyst’s entire coverage and by stock, allowing you to drill-down into analyst recommendation performance and estimate accuracy strengths and weaknesses, and enable you to pinpoint areas for improvement at a high level and on a stock-by-stock basis. Its Excel format can be easily integrated into the Analyst performance scorecard.

Current Estimate Data

Current Estimate Data helps you identify stale or contrary estimates that need your attention and that may require a closer look. The screen illustrates important context for your data: how disparate are your views from the Street? It provides valuable context of consensus estimates and its behaviour for two forecast periods, and allows you to filter out for outliers by percentage difference from the mean. Its Excel format can be easily integrated into internal MIS.

Readership Monitor

Readership Monitor gives deep insight into user readership behavior and trends. It is designed to show: What traction do your reports have in the marketplace? Where are the strengths and weaknesses in the department? Is our readership trend positive or are we losing ground in an increasingly competitive landscape? Access to our Readership data will offer a new dimension of visibility into the efficacy and reach of your Research department, as well as allowing you to incorporate the key metric of research consumption into models of Analyst performance and market trends.
